Foreword

The State of Orissa has the unique distinction of having as many as 62 different tribal communities. They account for 22.13% of the State's population. The Tribal communities of the State occupies about 45% of the State's geographical landscape - specified as "Scheduled Area".

Development intervention along with protective discrimination is the main objective of state's policy for the upliftment of tribal communities. For smooth administration of the tribal areas and timely implementation of plans and programmes in 118 blocks having 50% or more ST population, 21 ITDAs were created in the State. These ITDAs implement a number of income generating schemes and infrastructure development projects under various plans and programmes formed by the State and Central Government.

For better planning and monitoring of the programmes implemented by ITDAs, a database is required. In this backdrop, this book is a humble attempt by Orissa SC & ST Research and Training Institute to depict important information about all the 21 ITDAs of the State.

To compile information on the demographic and socio-economic aspects of these 21 ITDAs in one volume, SCSTRTI has prepared this colourful document. Prof. (Dr.) A.B. Ota, I.A.S. (Director), Sri B.N. Mohanty (Statistician) and his staff Sri B.C. Sahoo (Statistical Assistant), Sri D.G. Mallik (Statistical Assistant) and Sri Sridhar Panda (Statistical Assistant) have put all out efforts to bring out this booklet. I hope learned readers, researchers and planners will find this book useful.

Government of Orissa

Preface

The Fifth Five Year Plan provided for a policy shift in relation to development of Tribal Communities and Scheduled Areas. In addition to introducing the concept of Tribal Sub Plan (TSP) under which different Departments of Central as well as State Government were required to set apart plan outlays for economic development of Scheduled Tribes in proportion to their population, ITDAs were created to plan and monitor implementation of the TSP in the Blocks having majority of tribal population. Accordingly, 21 ITDAs were created in Orissa for 118 Blocks forming part of the State's Scheduled Area.

ITDAs are also assigned tasks to directly implement income generating schemes and infrastructure development projects for which allocations were made under State and Central Plans. Indeed, the major portion of Special Central Assistance (SCA) to Tribal Sub Plan (TSP) was released to the ITDAs for implementing family oriented income generating schemes for tribal families below the poverty line and incidental infrastructure. With the passage of time, a major portion of allocations received from the Central Government as assistance under Article 275 (1) of the Constitution started flowing to the ITDAs for implementing various infrastructure development projects to improve the backward forward linkages, welfare schemes meant for tribal communities and to raise the level of administration in the remote tribal villages of the Scheduled Area.

In addition to SCA and allocation under Article 275 (1) of the Constitution, ITDAs receive funds out of State Plan, Non-Plan, Centrally Sponsored Schemes etc. ITDAs of KBK districts also receive funds under the Revised Long Term Action Plan (RLTAP) for implementing some of the activities.

There is no single document available incorporating basic information about all the 21 ITDAs. Often researchers, planners and administrators look for such information for various purposes, but they find it extremely difficult to access. Realizing this deficiency of a reliable data base, SCs & STs Research and Training Institute has made a modest attempt to gather basic information of all the 21 ITDAs and have compiled them in a consolidated form. It is hoped that this publication will be helpful to the Planners, Researchers, Academicians, Development Administrators, Social Scientists and the General Public as a whole.

This publication i.e. "ITDA Profile" has been compiled by the Statistical Cell of this Institute from different secondary sources. It contains demographic, socio-economic and infrastructure data of each ITDA of the state.

I am thankful to the members of the Statistical Cell of this Institute headed by Sri B.N.Mohanty, Statistician including Sri B.C.Sahoo (S.A.), Sri D.G.Mallik (S.A.) and Sri Sridhar Panda (S.A.) for their efforts in compilation of this book.
