

I believe at par that the Negrito tribes of Andaman had link with Africans and undoubtedly in ancient period or the Andaman races lived in Africa in past and may be before the continental drift at the time of existence of Pangaea.

The present Spanish area was the land of ancient human beings and had deep link with present Africa and we have found the facts that enforce as to think no doubt the Andaman tribes had link with Africa including south east Europe particularly the Spanish area..... further to discuss.

The degree of inhuman cruelty, the murders, the conflicts, colonization, tribal adoption and friendship, etc. all such issues of the tribal history of isles can be well added to the notorious story of Kalapani to help us in having the more accurate answer to how the islands had witnessed the blood and tears of the savagers..... to illustrate in the proposed lecture.....
