

(W)

132

- Both of them were wearing a old weird lungi cloth piece of one ^{inch} ~~each~~ breadth on the waist.
- They were also wearing arm & neck ornaments made of red threads and small coweries.
- These ornaments were having ingenious knots and central thread seemed to be made of bark fibre.
- One liked the head cloth of Shri B.Singh which was given to him along with small comb by Shri B.Singh.
- The teeth were yellowish and tongue had reddish layering ().
- One child used the red cloth given as his band.
- They were very receptive to Soframycin.
- When they came on board they were singing and shivering with cold.
- One big boat of >30 feet was lying on the shore in a tilted position, apparently it seemed that its engine etc. have been taken out.
- It had two small hatches and one big Ro towards stern end.
- From side, there appeared to be a small 15-20 feet Red Fibre glass boat which ultimately turned out to be a single piece of some plastic or fibreglass boat side with 5-6 feet height well stuck in sand.
- The child who was given head cloth took out his necklace of red threads and tried to fit it on head of B.Singh, was unsuccessful to put it though he so left it on head itself.
- 8-10 Deer with youngs were seen in two groups on western coast.

Contd...5/-