

activities. They have cordial relations with male partners. It is observed from the Wedo cassette of the previous contact two Jarua men were quarrelling for the coconut/banana for a long time. The tension was increased among them finally the two Jarua women came persuaded the matter, the two Jarua men were separated and they were taken to their respective places. This clearly shows that women plays a crucial role in social control.

VIII Housing

In both the contact points i.e. Foul Bay and Yaadita point we have seen temporary settlements on the beach side. The settlement may be around 200 to 300 meters from the sea shore. In the Foul Bay we have seen 6 houses and in Yaadita point 16 houses. The house types are not uniform, we observed three different types, the sketches were made and we are also measuring the length and breadth of different house types.

The Jaruas are hardly permanent
