they are making contact with. Cultural ambivalence, snatching tendency, cutting crude jokes with the visiting team and other ^{uncordial} uncerdiate attitudes & behaviours are commonly seen. Invariably and unquestionably they gladly accept gifts and beyond this acceptance they are least concerned with the contact team. The advantages gained from such friendly contact is not permanent and viewed as situational, since there is no spontaneity in such acceptance or attitudes which is quite palpable in their behaviour or dealing with alien people. It will not be out of place to state here that they are now becoming familiar time after time in every contact, and although the intention of the visiting team towards the hosts are pacific; not but what they seem not convinced the main object of the friendly contact mission. Thereby they are over-sensitive and behaved accordingly and at the same time found themselves in a fix in the present day contemporary situation. In brief the contact team are yet to gain the confidence of these unfriendly but lovable child-like people.
