It seems that we are following two different modes for providing education to the tribal students. In case of Nimola School, there are lump sum charges on monthly basis for hostel / education, which is a standard for all residential school. But in case of VKV, we are reimbursing each and every bill, at the end of the year. Why can't we have an arrangement for paying hostel and educational charges to VKV, similar to the Nimola School, so as to avoid this cumbersome process of making reimbursement. At the end of financial year
