

On hearing the news of arrival of Jarawas at ~~Kadamtala~~ Kadamtala, a good crowd of public gathered at jetty to see them. After some time the Jarawas were brought to ~~the~~ the ship and the ship was kept at anchorage. They were again fed well. Later they were found to be inclined to go back to their habitat and at 2.30 p.m they were taken back to Lakralungta and left them on the shore by dughli. They left willingly. The ship returned and reached Kadamtala at 4 p.m after a break at Baratang for refreshment.

Throughout, the Jarawas were found to be more friendly, except they behaved in disorderly way and required constant watch. However in due course of time these people can be brought to a disciplined life with proper skill on our side to train them.
