

PROGRESS RECORD

Page No.

53

| NAME: Abel C. |                                                                                                                                                    | AGE     | HOSP. No.                                            |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|------------------------------------------------------|
| WARD:                |                                                                                                                                                    | BED No. |                                                      |
| DATE                 | PHYSICAL FINDINGS                                                                                                                                  |         | TREATMENT, INVESTIGATION ETC.                        |
| 2/6/10               | No H/o Vomiting with wky andit passed 7 on am.                                                                                                 |         |                                                      |
| 2.10 PM              | Pt. is Sucking breast milkNicerlyinat 1.10 PM                                                                                          |         | IV R/L Heparin 12 hoursSteadyAmpril (1.25mg) |
| 7 PM                 | Mild tenderness in theupper parasternal regionof Sple. 2 1/2 with Dr. note                                                                 |         | IV Lab.Mild ECG tracing change                   |
| 3/6/10               | 2.45 PM                                                                                                                                            |         |                                                      |
| NCC                  | T Hand                                                                                                                                             |         | 3/6/10                                               |
| 3/6/10               | only 3-4 slts of CT Browncould be seen taken because ofresistance.                                                              |         | Continue breast feeding                              |
| 4.10 PM              | Pt. is Sucking <sup>breast</sup> milk <sup>from</sup> mother. <sup>Ampril</sup>No Jt, No, Vomiting occurs till4.30 PM, pt. was Nashed once |         | Rept. all.                                           |
|                      | the force of T is taken.                                                                                                                           |         | Can I be seen bythe Surgeon in Mon.              |
| 12 PM                | e.T. Hand could be takenin the morning when pt. isStable.                                                                                  |         | for further investigation inMangalore.           |

2/6/10 [P.T.O.]