

Following the marriage feast the couple goes to girl's house. At the entry of couple into the girl's house, the Pastor conducts a small prayer. The married couple thereafter stay for a week in the girl's parent's house before they move to their permanent/regular residence, which may be that of the boy's parent's house or altogether a new residence of their own.

In cases where the girl conceives before the marriage is arranged, the above elaborate system of marriage is not performed. The boy and the pregnant girl is simply declared as husband and wife by the Pastor in the house without going for the rituals in the Church. However, the girl and the boy are required to tender an apology before the Pastor requesting for the pardon for the misdeeds.

DEATH

Soon after the death of a person one of the family members of the dead goes to Church and informs the Pastor. Church bell tolls to announce the death. The death knell rung from the Church is distinct from that of usual Church
