

and eaten. Marriage Rs.500.

4. Chandu-wale. Bury dead. Cloth male corpse in shroud, a female in Lenga. Prepare boiled rice for the feast.

5. Gadho. Bury dead in Pyjamas and bind up the head. Feast as in Sadi Got except that when possible the body is kept overnight and a live pig is fastened near the house. In the morning the principal woman takes a heavy stick and stretches one of the pig's legs over a stone, recites the following:—
"Siri Thakurji, tere nan ke sathki jaija. Ae Maharaj iske kaj kiriye karte hain. Ae Maharaj, ise jatmen shamil karde, hamare balbachche khaisala rakho."

The legs of the pig is then broken by a heavy blow of stick, and the pig is immediately killed to be eaten at the Marriage Rs.500.

6. Mahes. Burn dead. When fines are inflicted by the Panchayat for any reason, any member of this got who may be sent is asked to purify the money by touching it. When fire is thrown on offenders in a purification ceremony, the ~~throw are members of this got~~. Marriage Rs.500.

7. Genla. Similar to Gade Got.

8. Bhanswale. Burn dead. Eat beef and jackal's flesh. Use rice in funeral feast. Can marry in own got. Marriage Rs.500.

9. and 10. Chhede and Koran. Similar to Gadho.

Others. 11 Tinaichi, 12. Marware, 13. Dhanoke, 14. Ror, 15. Pophat, 16. Mataike, 17. Ghasive, 18. Dholive (high and low), 19. Mire 20. Range, 21. Gange.

Note III—Bibliography—

1. Crooke.—Tribes and Castes of the N.W. Provinces and Punjab.
2. United Provinces Police Report, 1911.
3. Inspector Baldeo Sahai's Report on the origin, habits and customs of the wandering tribes known as Kanjars and Belahs inhabiting the Agra district. Agra 1875.
4. Criminal Tribes of the United Provinces.—S.T. Hollister.
5. Report on the Farrarganj colony for the year 1929. Sheard.
6. Mr. Sheard's reply to a questionnaire on the culture, anthropology and ethnology of the Bhandas.

C.J.S.