

- iv) In many States there is inadequate coordination between different SCAs with the result that the limited staff of the SCA cannot mobilise many persons to take advantage of the programmes on offer. It may be advisable for the State SCAs to set up Standing Committees for ensuring effective coordination amongst themselves as well as to use their staff in a more optimal manner for identification of potential beneficiaries, follow up of loans as well as recoveries.

I shall be grateful if you could have these matters considered urgently and issue suitable directions to all concerned for immediate follow up action. I would also appreciate your early response regarding the action taken or proposed to be taken in this regard.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
