Compared to the cost of road expansion provisioning of proper boats to AAJVS is insignificant but would be very effective to help and insure Jarawa future.

But it must be added in conclusion that the present expansion of the ATR should be seriously reconsidered, and following consultations with relevant agencies adequate safeguards ensured for the Jarawas. Our policies of Tribal Welfare need to be granted greater respect.

I hope as a concerned individual you will give a serious thought to this matter and think about a course of action.

Sincerely

Vishvajit Pandya.
