

concern shown by us in the case of the injured boy and that they are expecting the same treatment from us. As such being compelled by the shrunk area, scarcely of food etc. and having expectations of getting hospitality from the civilized society and also being desirous of joining the main stream and in fact the Constitution of India also meant provision for their upliftment and joining with the main stream, Jarawas came out on the Andaman Trunk Road and Ull date they are waiting for help.

7. Your petitioner states that we are a democratic, secular country and the State being a welfare state has been taking care of various sections of the society like backward classes, other backward classes, schedule casts, scheduled tribes, physically handicaps etc. and the respondent Administration also has been spending huge amounts In the name of making contacts with these Jarawas; it is not understood as to why, even after 7 to 8 months the respondents have
