

The residents of Kadantala and Ustara village are mostly cultivators and fishermen who depends upon the forest and sea to fulfil their daily needs. In villages none of the houses are thatched roofs made of bamboo chatai and ^{timbers} ~~plywood~~ for the purpose of which they have to go to forest. Likewise their fooding habits mostly depend upon the species of fishes available at their nearby bays and sea.

In case of implementation of PAT regulation and the relevant Act on the villages found at sea and forest there is all possible chance and threat that it may cause commotion amongst the general public which can lead to agitation in the locality.
