

research institutions. A guideline on research should be framed in consultation with premier national research institutions. In the context of the health related precautions that are needed for all those who come into contact with the Jarawas, researchers, too need to provide certificates confirming that they are not carrying any contagious diseases.

12. Care would be taken that all staff, especially those belonging to the AAJVS, deputed on duty do not have any contagious diseases and do not drink and smoke, at least in front of the Jarawas.

The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to all the participants.

Issues with the approval of the Chairperson.