

The Coast Guard has been active to check the poaching activities. AAVS workers have been educating the Jarawas about their reserve area and the effect of is done. this figure may have to be enlarged after a proper study that patrolling can only be done in groups and therefore needed throughout the reserve. It may be pointed out minimum of 100 persons covering 16 Police Outposts are to be graduates. To cover the Jarawa reserve effectively a require persons at the level of Sub-Inspector, if they are initial assessment of such a special police force would permanent establishment under Non-Plan later. Our assessed and the decision taken should form part of a needs to be prepared so that results can be subsequently case require posts to be created. A proper plan scheme order to have contractual employees, this would in any police force rather than having contractual employees. In trained graduates and sociologists to create a special evolve a Plan scheme. This would provide for selection of patrolling. In order to do so it would be necessary to police force that would be entrusted the task of The suggestion has been made to establish a 'Special activities. The Administration is not engaging the Jarawas for plantation work, which will affect their foraging

Poaching:

(21) Foraging activities by Jarawas: -

The Sub-Group of experts may suggest the details of the programme / scheme and modus operandi to execute the same on the ground.

(20) Augmentation of water sources in Jarawa area:-